C Spire gives Mississippi schools free wireless data access for approved learning websites

For K-12 students to attend school remotely over the internet from home during Covid-19 public health emergency

Ridgeland, Miss. (March 19, 2020) – C Spire will provide K-12 students in Mississippi public schools with free access to dozens of online learning websites so they can continue their studies from home during this time, it was announced Thursday.

The company's decision means students' access on these approved websites using a C Spire wireless device will not count against the data use in their plan.

C Spire worked with sources that surveyed most of the state's 151 school districts to identify, develop and test the approved learning websites for mobile broadband internet accessibility. The list features some of the most popular and widely available K-12 online learning sites in public education circles.
